Parc Güell is a new construction development located in the elevated part of the charming Gracia neighborhood of Barcelona.

The building has an elegant and modern façade with balconies and three entrances; two for pedestrians on two different streets and a third for cars that enters the parking lot for 12 cars, 4 motorcycles and 15 storage rooms.

The development consists of 5 ground floor duplexes, 8 apartments and 2 penthouses. All homes have an exterior façade facing a street or block patio and most have private balconies or garden patios in the case of ground floor homes. The penthouses have terraces of 118 and 124 m² with spectacular views of the city.

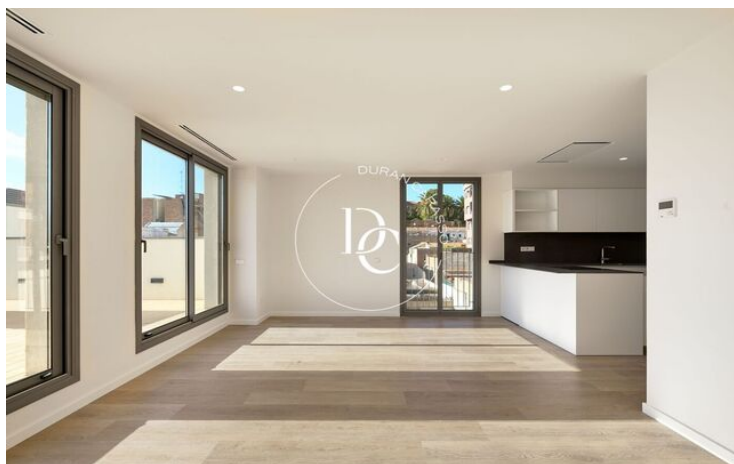

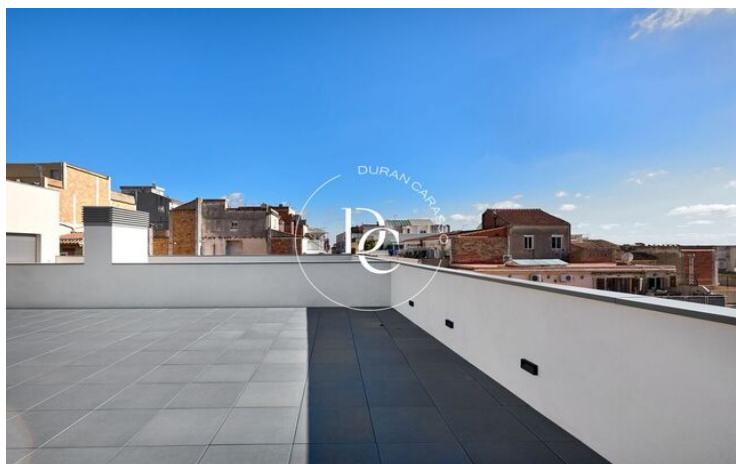

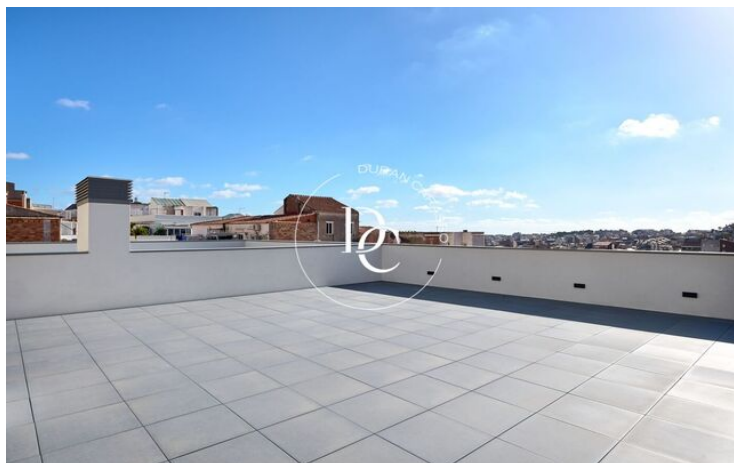

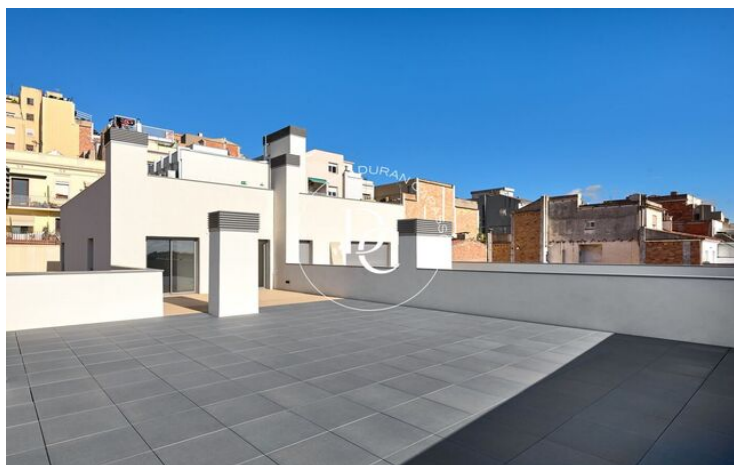

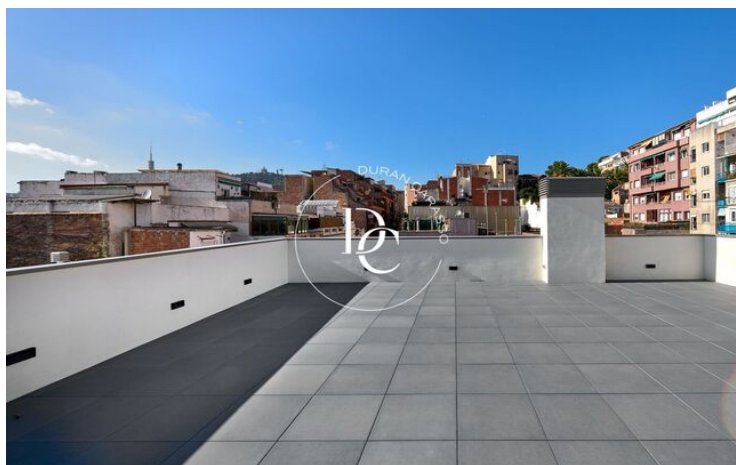

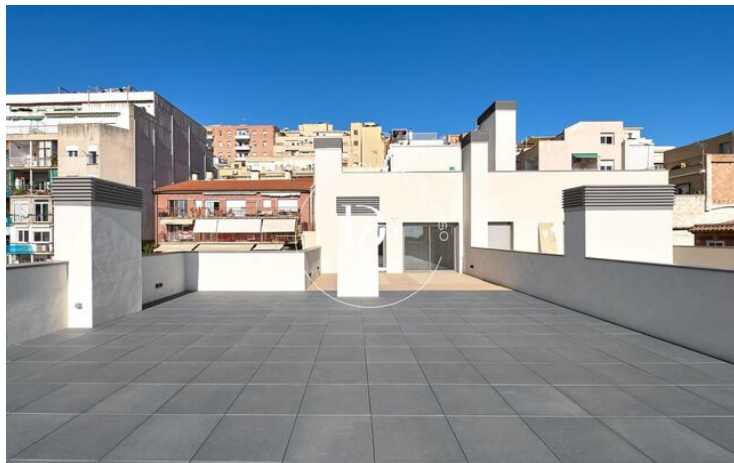

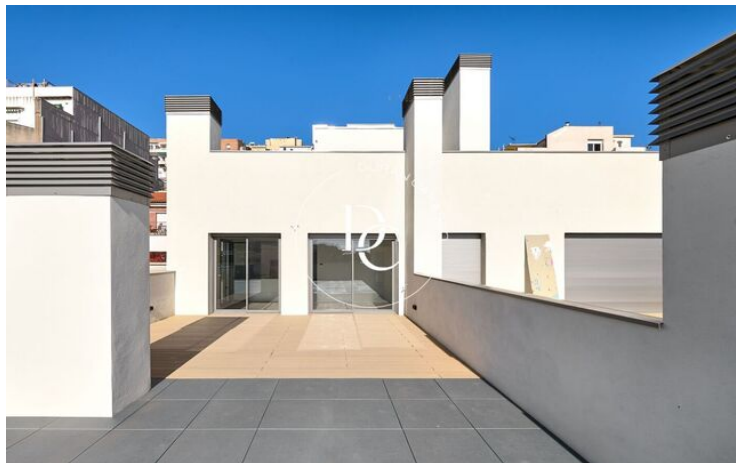

The rooms of the homes are completely exterior and are specially designed to provide natural light and good ventilation in the bedroom/stay and bedrooms.

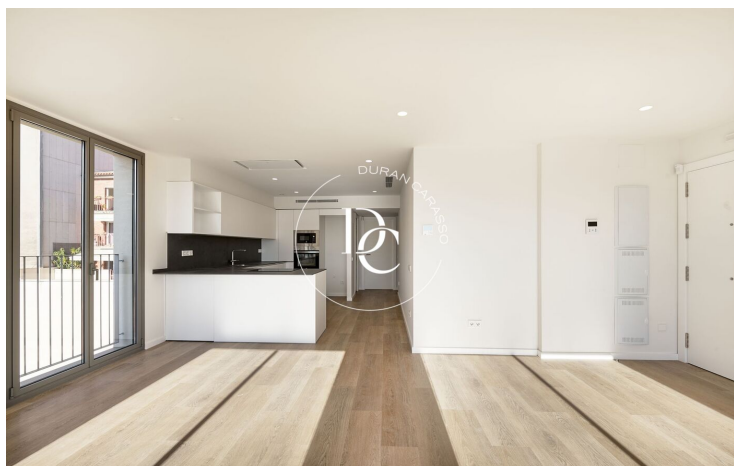

The properties have an A energy certification, with all the eco-efficient comforts provided by an integrated aerothermal system for air conditioning, heating and hot water. Double-glazed windows provide thermoacoustic insulation, and every effort has been made to make the kitchens aesthetically pleasing and functional, equipped with bespoke furniture, oven, ceramic hob and extractor hood.

In the rest of the homes, top quality finishes have also been prioritized, as seen in the parquet and porcelain stoneware floors, built-in wardrobes with covering, shelves, bar and drawers and LED lighting throughout the home.
